

CELEBRATING SCOTLAND'S INDUSTRIAL HERITAGE

Engine Shed, Stirling, 16th August

09:45-10:15 Registration & tea/coffee

10:15-10:20 Welcome and Housekeeping

Background to Scotland's Industrial Heritage

10:20-10:50 Introduction and Background – Dr Miles Oglethorpe, Head of Industrial Heritage, Historic Environment Scotland

10:50-11.10 Iron and Steel – Professor David Mitchell, Director of Conservation, Historic Environment Scotland

11.10-11.20 Comfort break

11:20-11.40 Shipbuilding and Marine Engineering – Ian Johnston, Shipbuilding Historian and Author

11.40-12.00 Scotland's uplifting heritage: - Dr Brian Newman, School of Marine, Offshore & Subsea Technology, Newcastle University

12.00-12.20 Scotland's civil engineering: The Forth Bridge, John Andrew, FICE, Civil Engineer, ICE STEM Ambassador

12.20-12.40 Scotland's business archives – Kiara King, Archivist
The Ballast Trust and Business Archives Council of Scotland

12.40.13.00 Q&A

13.10-14.00 Lunch and explore the Engine Shed

Managing the Industrial Heritage

14.00-14.20 Go Industrial: Scotland's Industrial Museums, Emma Halford Forbes, Industrial Museums Scotland Coordinator, Go Industrial

14.20-14.40 Conserving Bonnie Dundee – Mark Watson, Deputy Head of Industrial Heritage, Historic Environment Scotland

14.40-15.00 Industrial heritage in trust – Derek Alexander, Head of Archaeological Services, National Trust for Scotland

15.00-15.20 Tea & Coffee

15.20-15.40 Recording our industrial heritage – Miriam McDonald, Industrial Survey & Recording Projects Manager, Historic Environment Scotland

15.40-16.00 Fabric and machinery conservation – Mark Ashmole, Director, Scottish Railway Preservation Society

16.00-16.20 Digital technologies and industrial heritage: recording the Forth Bridge – Al Rawlinson, Head of Innovation & Learning, Historic Environment Scotland

16.20-16.30 Final questions and closing remarks

